EzPower Restaurant Point Of Sale

Let's start with the basics, ezPower Restaurant POS is designed to be easy to use and in-depth. With the software, you can count sales, print order to kitchen, drinks to the bar and manage multiple restaurant menus. You can use for your small or big restaurant. When you first use the software, it doesn't need to be installed. The installation is a simple click and go. You just need to download the application's files and then import them to your device and click on the start button. The next step is that after importing the application's files, you can open the start panel by clicking on it, and then you can select the restaurant category that you want to start with. Here, you can choose the menu type that you want, which one is the front desk, which one is the back or the kitchen and then start adding new items to the menu. Now, if you want to track sales, for example, the software needs to connect to your company's accounting program first. If the restaurant's accounting program is compatible, then it can track your sales more efficiently. If you want to print your order, you can go to the menu's printer settings and set the device that you want to use. You can also set the number of copies that you want to print. Next is printing the order. You can first set the printer's settings if you want to use it. For example, the paper type and position that you want to use. You can also set the number of copies that you want to print. Now, the next thing you can use is the bar. You can set the amount of the beer and the wine that you want to sell and also set the price that you want to use. Now, if you want to track inventory, you can go to the stock settings, and you can set the price that you want to use for inventory. The next step is setting your business hours. You can adjust the sale hours and you can even set the schedule that you want. Now, if you want to track your staff, you can go to the staff settings and you can set the staff members and their wages. If you want to track tables and tips, you can go to the tables and tips settings and you can set the service charge that you want to use. The next step is to track customers. You can set your menu and order categories and you can also set the customer's preferences. Now, if you want
