Motion captured data is stored in the cloud and real-time motion capture data is applied in the form of the EA Sports Lab. FIFA 22 users may choose to play offline or online with others or work alone. EA Sports Lab, the powerful new game engine, features the new “Unreal Engine 4,” as well as new artificial intelligence (AI) and other game engine features. Introducing “the new ‘World Connectivity’ Challenge,” a new concept where FIFA fans from all around the world can be connected through The Game by playing “Real Football” Gameplay Mechanics Rotation Control FIFA 22 introduces Rotation Control, an innovative new feature that allows players to apply Rotation Control on any pitch in real-time. FIFA 22 introduces Rotation Control to players and adds it to all player controls and dribble moves. Rotation Control allows players the ability to move out of the way of a pass or shot, as well as stop and change direction and speed within this rotation. This moves players’ feet and feet of everyone on the pitch. When Rotation Control is enabled, the position of the player’s feet in relation to the ball - where they are facing and where they are positioned - as well as the direction they are going - is mapped to a circular area surrounding the ball. This “rotational footprint” is continuously updated, and shifts depending on each player’s movement and location. For example, if the ball is towards the player’s right side and the player is moving towards his left, a player’s rotational footprint will be shifted to the left when passing the ball. Meanwhile, if the player is moving towards his left or right, the footprint will rotate in the opposite direction. As a result, any player on the pitch can control the direction of the ball without the need for significant movement and provides for enhanced ball control. Players are now able to apply Rotation Control on pitches that are viewed from the front, back or sides, allowing for a natural and fluid experience in FIFA 22. When comparing the foot-pads in FIFA 22 with those in FIFA 20, players can see that a greater variety of movements are available, including the use of Rotation Control. New AI FIFA 22 introduces the new AI “Player Intelligence 3” engine. The AI now has the ability to think
