He was a deputy district attorney from 1972 to 1981, prosecuting more than 25 murder cases and becoming a veteran of the countys special homicide prosecuting panel. In 1981, he was appointed as a Municipal Court judge, advancing to Superior Court in 1982, serving as supervising judge of the criminal panel for a decade. He raged when the Santa Ana Police Department manufactured its own crack cocaine so undercover officers could then sell it and make arrests branding it outrageous police conduct that shocks the conscience of this court. After Orange Countys bankruptcy, he ruled that secret grand jury transcripts detailing the District Attorneys aborted investigation of Merrill Lynch must be made public, over the objections of both the D.A. and Merrill Lynch.
