great tips for layer management, laydel especially, but as many have said, use it wisely. the lay del command only appears to be in autocad for windows not autocad for mac, it is an unknown command, however, similar functionality is available in autocad for mac by selecting a layer in the layer palette/visor and then do a right click of the mouse. from the popup menu delete is available and with this selected 3 options appear, 1. delete the layer and its contents. 2. delete the layer and move its contents to another layer with this option, a dialog box opens presenting a list of the layers and you can choose 3. dont delete the layer and its content. michael baker served as lead designer for the design-build delivery of the edwards air force base
