Let u and v be elements of the Riemann sphere. Then u and v are in the same component of the Riemann sphere if and only if there is an isomorphism $f: \mathbb{C} \rightarrow \mathbb{C}$ such that $f(u) = v$. Is there a proper closed subset of the Riemann sphere containing v but not containing u ? A: Let $\mathbb{R} \cup \{+\infty\} = \mathbb{P}^1(\mathbb{R})$ and $u = +\infty$ and $v = +\infty$. Then $v = +\infty$ and u is not in the same component of $\mathbb{P}^1(\mathbb{R})$.
