CryptoPrevent is a software utility designed to protect your system from the CryptoLocker worm, by securing the most vital locations of your file system against any type of modification. In addition, it also prevents the execution of various processes, such as syskey.exe or cipher.exe, which are also signs of virus infection. In case you are not very experienced when it comes to computers, the application allows you to simply select the desired protection level and leave everything else to be handled automatically. Alternatively, if you want to customize the security settings, you can get your hands dirty and access the advanced configuration options, where you can also find the experimental functions. Filter suspicious programs and files To increase security, CryptoPrevent allows you to enable a few filter modules, which are used to closely monitor specific file formats and notify you whenever they are blocked by the application. In case you do not want to be bothered, it is also possible to perform the blocking in silent mode, without being prompted for permission. As far as the experimental filtering modules are concerned, they can be used to block and filter suspicious EXE and COM files, although you are warned to pay attention before enabling them, since they may cause system errors and other severe side effects. In addition, you can also deny executables temporarily extracted from archives from running, as well as prevent the execution of bcdedit.exe. A powerful system protection utility Despite the fact that the application is mainly designed to defend you against the CryptoLocker worm, CryptoPrevent is also a good way to protect your system against all the other similar threats, as well as any virus that attempts to bring modifications to your sensitive directories. In addition, the user interface contains vast amounts of documentation about each and every function, which makes it very easy for anyone to choose the appropriate security level, depending on their preferences. CryptoPrevent has a rating of 4.5 out of 5 stars based on 3 votes. The installer of the application is simple enough, but installing the software took about an hour. We had to download it manually and then install it on one of our test computers. The first attempt to register it failed. Since then, it did not work on any of the computers we have tried. We were not able to solve it. We tried a few registry tweaks. None of them did the trick. Even a complete uninstall and reinstall did not help. We were able to register it using the technical support and then change the
