Adobe Photoshop is a collection of multiple, cross-process features such as image manipulation, editing, and layout. Diversely, it has become an essential component of post-production in modern digital media on-set workflow. It is one of the essential Photoshop features, which is sure to turn your visitors' attention. Even if they have come across your site or account, they will be more careful to visit your website that has been macro tagged. Unlike 'regular' tagging (used for watermarking), macro tag watermarking allows you to add custom watermarks on an image with a simple push of a button. The macro watermarking option is powered by a combination of image processing and machine learning. It works on images that consist of an oversized or distorted region, usually with the background content. The watermark can be your logo, company name, website's name or something related to your products or services. But it is a universal tool meant for all types of images and the region can be as large as you want. Photo editing software is not all about transformations and filters. A very beautiful aspect of Photoshop is the layer comping feature. The layer comping makes it possible to choose and arrange the layers of an image to form different visual compositions. You can either create and end with the picture, or build the composition from freehand, or use the sharpness tool to make your subject look more appealing. The layer comp helps to set the focus and elevate the visual composition by adding different components in the image.
